

EDUCATION INFORMAL TRUST (R)

#610/B, "Sukrutha", 5th Main Road, Hebbal, Bangalore-560 024

Dear Sir / Madam,

Sincere thanks for your kind support for flood relief. Your fast and unconditional support reduced the response time of relief activities. People, especially children were benefited in a significant way. Education Informal Relief (EI-Relief) collected a sum of Rs 1,06,787/- cash, approximately Rs 2.5 lakh/- worth new cloths and approximately Rs 2500/- worth medicines in 10 days span. Our resources are being deployed with the help of Janata Kalyana Nidhi, of Pejavara Mutt.

EI-Relief is planning to take another step forward towards long term rehabilitation of destabilized lives. We intend to focus on efficient deployment and monitoring of resources towards a planned infrastructure development.

Please read a short summary of the overall flood situation and some details of relief activities. We thank you again and seek your support and involvement in all our Charity / relief endeavors.

Thanking you

Yours sincerely,

For EDUCATION INFORMAL TRUST

Janata Kalyana Nidhi

Janata Kalyana Nidhi is an initiative by Udupi Pejavar Adoksha math. Sri Sri Sri Vishvesha theertha Swamiji of Udupi Pejavar Math voluntarily took the task of flood relief as soon as the news of the flood broke out. He walked the streets of Bangalore with a determination and purpose of building 200 houses for the victims. Sri Vishvesha theertha Swami ji visited those places that were affected by floods and distributed food, cloths, blankets, Medicines and other commodities that were essential for the flood victims. The model of working was to reach those remote places where not much support was provided by the Govt., this makes the model of operation unique.

Other activities of Education Informal (EI):

Education Informal is an NGO working towards Defining Public Policies through Informal Education

- We are visiting schools and discussing with students about Science - Astronomy, Robotics, Rockets, Animal Behavior, Vedic Mathematics, Indian culture and History and many more topics.
- We inspire them with stories of great people who have done innovations even though they have come from economically backward community. We encourage students to think openly and ask more questions by building up friendly relation with them.
- EI has reached around approximately 1500 students till date in and around Bangalore, most of them being weaker section.
- Sessions like Definition, Causes, Tips to identify biased reporting, characterizing a media source, Effects of media bias on public affairs, Media Watch - concept and implementation are also given for wide audience by Education Informal.
- Media.Syndicate(mediasyndicate.in) is one such initiative by EI to provide essential educative news towards social good. This endeavor is achieved by syndicating suitable media sources and augmenting distributive channels.
- An edited version of the syndicated news is reaching more than 1500 people every week through a one page newsletter from last five years. Fast response time, comprehensive coverage and coverage of alternate PoVs (Point of View) have become characteristic features of media.syndicate.

It was all possible for us because of the unconditional support and invaluable contribution you have made. We thank you very much and look forward to maintain good relation with you. We are open for any thoughts and ideas you might want to share in the direction of post disaster, pre disaster operations. We are open for any invitations, thoughts and ideas for improvement in our activities

Thank you
